Emergency Seed Interventions, Subsidies & Seed System Development

This country case study provides a better understanding of the current status of South Sudan’s seed sector, from the South Sudanese context and food cropping systems to current seed sector development efforts – and stakeholders’ perspectives thereof.

Informal Market and Seed Systems Analysis of the Bean and Cassava Value Chains in Eastern DRC: A Case of North and South Kivu Provinces

In the Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC), various constraints limit the production of beans and cassava, which serve as key food security and income crops for smallholder farmers.

Seed Policy Provisions and Operational Challenges in Ethiopia

This study aims to understand why Ethiopian regulatory provisions for seed are not operationalized at scale, are implemented inconsistently, and feature asymmetrical patterns of adherence.

The report provides recommendations, along with considerations for their operationalization.
