Advancing Local Leadership in the Right Way (ALLRight)

OVERVIEW

Catholic Relief Services (CRS) Vision 2030 and the CRS Agency Strategy aspires to build local leadership. One of CRS' guiding principles, subsidiarity, has long driven the organization toward localization. In Fiscal Year 2022, CRS established the Advance Local Leadership in the Right Way (ALLRight) Fund, which is a unique CRS fund designed to intensify and catalyze investment in partner capacity strengthening for local leadership. Through efforts under the AllRight Fund, CRS seeks to accelerate and intensify its capacity strengthening initiatives to strategic partners including church, civil society, government and private sector to be effective, dynamic and sustainable catalysts for change for the communities served.

CRS Uganda and Caritas Tororo have worked together in the development and humanitarian sectors since 2014 and have established a strong relationship based on mutual trust and shared commitments. Caritas Tororo is a reputable organization in emergency response and sustainable livelihoods and works with communities, government, peer organizations and donors. In August 2024, CRS and Caritas Tororo launched the ALLRight

ABOUT CARITAS TORORO

Caritas Tororo is the social development arm of the Archdiocese of Tororo. It works through a network of 48 Catholic Parishes located in 17 districts in Eastern Uganda, with the purpose of empowering communities for sustainable development. Caritas Tororo's organizational values and principles are derived from the social teachings of the Catholic Church aspiring for the enhancement of social services and human dignity. Over the past five years, CRS and Caritas Tororo have collaborated in seven rapid responses to disasters following heavy rains, flooding, and landslides in the Mt. Elgon region. Caritas Tororo is also currently working in partnership with CRS and other local and international organizations on implementation of the Restore Africa project, which aims to restore over 560,000 Ha of ecosystems in Uganda. Over the years, Caritas Tororo has developed a strong reputation with local communities, local government, and with international donors.

ABOUT CRS

CRS has been working in Uganda since 1965 in partnership with the local Catholic Church, the Caritas network, other national and international NGOs and private sector partners in support of CRS Uganda's vision that "Empowered families reach their full potential and are resilient to external shocks in safe, just and inclusive communities, supported by effective local systems." Strategic Priority Areas include Health and Social Services Systems Strengthening, Resilient Food Systems, Emergency Preparedness and Management, Climate Change Adaptation and Mitigation, and Local Leadership. Between October 2022 and September 2023, CRS supported over 1.6 million Ugandans and refugees residing across the country.
